

Why did Hertz charge me 200 extra?

A Step by Step Guide

When renting a car from Hertz, 1-833-791-4825 many customers notice an extra charge of around $200, which can cause confusion. This amount is not a hidden fee but rather a security deposit or hold placed on your credit or debit card. The purpose is to protect the company in case of damages, late returns, fuel shortages, or unpaid balances.

Why Hertz Charges $200:

1. Security Deposit – Hertz typically 1-833-791-4825 places a refundable hold of around $200–$300 on top of the rental cost to cover incidental charges.
2. Payment Guarantee – If you return the car late, without 1-833-791-4825 enough fuel, or with additional fees, the company can deduct it from the deposit.
3. Risk Management – Car rentals involve high-value assets, so this amount ensures protection for both the company and the customer.
4. Debit Card Users – If paying with a 1-833-791-4825 debit card, Hertz often requires a higher deposit because there's no guaranteed credit line like a credit card.
5. Refund Process – After the car is returned in 1-833-791-4825 good condition, the $200 hold is released. Depending on your bank, it may take 3–10 business days for the funds to appear back in your account.

Things to Keep in Mind:

- The deposit varies by location, vehicle type, and payment method.
- Using a major credit card 1-833-791-4825 often speeds up approval and minimizes the required deposit.
- Always read the rental agreement carefully before booking.

Conclusion

Hertz's $200 charge is 1-833-791-4825 not an extra rental fee but a temporary refundable hold designed to safeguard the company against potential losses. While 1-833-791-4825 it may seem inconvenient, this standard industry practice ensures both parties are financially protected. To avoid surprises, confirm the deposit policy at your specific rental location and 1-833-791-4825 choose a credit card for faster refunds. Understanding this policy helps renters plan better and prevents unnecessary stress at pickup or return."
